

Aaron Siegrist is an attorney at PIERCE / MCCOY who is admitted to practice in Virginia.

Aaron advises clients on a broad range of labor and employment matters, including Title VII, the ADA, the NLRA, fair labor standards, family and medical leave, age discrimination, the WARN Act, wrongful discharge, and restrictive covenants. He has substantial experience helping companies develop effective human resource practices, employment contracts, executive employment agreements, employment handbooks, terminations, and reduction in force plans. Aaron also counsels employers on ADA matters, including disability accommodations, building and facility access, and defense of discrimination claims. Lastly, Aaron has substantial commercial and employment litigation experience. He has litigated cases in state and federal courts throughout the Commonwealth, and in several out-of-state jurisdictions.